Even months, in Faribault, at the Rice County Historical Museum. Dues $10 per year, individual, and $12 per year for a family. Quarterly newsletter, Rice Gleanings included with membership. Queries printed free. Space available, members first.

HELLO

Here we are starting a new season with the R.C.G.S. the newsletter continues to evolve as I learn more about, how I want to put it together. Thanks for your patience.

We had several people drop by to chat with us at the Fair booth. Those that missed it, missed some good conversations this summer. We did real well with our informal, Coffee and Discussion nites during our time off this summer. We had just as good attendance as we have at our meetings.

I want to put in a list of Surnames of interest in our Dec. newsletter, if you want to be included, and your not at our Sept meeting, drop me a note and I'll get them in.

Along with our planned meeting place changes, at our last meeting we voted to raise our dues. The extra cash is needed to cover the costs of mailing the newsletter.

We want to Thank John Garity for sending his copy of the Carity, and Gariety Families in the U.S. and the Cariteys of Haute Soane, France. The book will be in our archives at the Northfield Historical Museum.

Luana sent me a clipping that she thought would be of interest to our members. It note a volunteer effort to prepare a Computerized Data Base which should be available for public use in 1996. It will list names of Confederate and Union soldiers, regiment and rank and location of soldiers buried in Cemeteries managed by the Park Service. For more information contact, John Peterson, National Park Service, Dept of Interior, P.O. Box 37127 Washinton, D.C. 20013-7127.

Researchers in German Genealogy are invited to submit data free of charge to the German Genealogical Index. It is cross indexed to find related searchers for localities of Germany, Switzerland, and Luxenburg. as well as enclves in German parts of Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia and other countries. For additional information write to German Genealogical Index, Dept. LMHS, P.O. Box 10115, Minneapolis, MN 55400

There is no room for Queries in this months newsletter. I wanted to include the whole list of those Killed, wounded or missing from Minnesota at the battle of Bull Run, But keep sending in Queries. I'll get them in next time.

Your Editor,

SWEDISH FINN HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The Historical Society for the Preservation of the Swedish-Finnish Heritage was organized in 1991 and has an active informational exchange program with similar societies in Finland. The SFHS is sponsored by the Order of Runeberg Lodge No. 101, Bethany Lutheran Church, Seattle, WA, and affiliated with the Vasa Finland Genealogical Society.

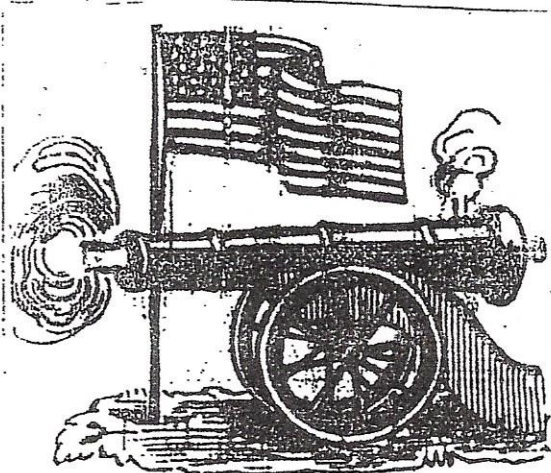

Emigration from the Swedish speaking section of Finland, primarily Ostrobothnia, to North America began in earnest around 1870. The majority of these so-called "Finlandssvenskar" settled in northern areas of the United States. For more information about their newsletter and dues, write: Swedish Finn Historical Society, 7400 Woodlawn Avenue N. E., Seattle, WA 98115.

NEW EUROPEAN RESEARCH CENTER

A new center for European genealogical research has opened its doors in Geneva, Switzerland. Specializing in questions pertaining to France, Belgium, Luxembourg and Switzerland, the staff also deals with family history in old Prussia. The staff will visit ancestral villages, photograph them, provide a history of the area and locate any living relatives still residing there. For more information write: The Genealogical Research Center, Jacques J. de Guise, Director, Case Postale 187, CH-1211 Geneve 25, Switzerland. Tel: 011 41 22/789 41 95. FAX 011 41/347 36 19.
